IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving memory of our mother and wife who passed away one year ago July fifth.

God saw the road was getting rough.
The hills were hard to climb.
He gently closed her loving eyes
And whispered "Peace be thine."
What is a home without Mother
All things this world may send
But when we lost our Mother
We lost our dearest friend,
You'll never know her value
Until you see her vacant chair.
Sadly missed by husband, children, grand children and great-grand children. 7-6-1p

State Police Basic Training School Extended

Richmond - The 55th State Police Basic Training School will be extended from 21 to 22 weeks in order that the 55 conditionally appointed troopers attending it may received instruction in breath analysis of those arrested for driving intoxicated, Colonel H. W. Burgess, the Department's Superintendent, reported today.

Colonel Burgess said that the 1972 General Assembly enacted a law which permits the breath test, in addition to the existing blood one, as the final determination in driving while intoxicated cases. The same law directs the State Health Commissioner to establish a course consisting of at least 40 hours of instruction , approve the type of equipment to be used and issue licenses to those completing the course.

The five day extension will be a part of each future Basic Training School, he said, and those who have completed Basic Training will attend special schools until all uniformed personnel are qualified.

The present school, consisting of 905 hours of instruction in 154 subjects, matriculated April 24, 1972, and was scheduled to graduate September 15. The graduation date will be moved forward to September 22.

In closing, Colonel Burgess stated that the new law will not become effective until January 1, 1973, in order to provide ample time for proper training of sufficient numbers of analysists.

MORE FAMILIES ELIGIBLE FOR FHA HOUSING LOANS

Many additional families in Virginia are now eligible for rural housing loans from the Farmers Home Administration, FHA State Director, Richard A. Goodling, announced recently.

"In families where both husband and wife are employed," Mr. Goodling explained, "the new piley permits half of the wife's gross income to be excluded in determining whether the total family income is within the maximum limit for loan eligibility."

For example, the husband is the principal source of income with $6,000. His wife earns $4,000. His entire income, plus half of his wife's , or $2,000, total $8,000. This is within Virginia's moderate income level of $8,000 so that family may be eligible for a Farmers Home Administration loan.

James A. Smith, National Administrator of Farmers Home Administration emphasizes that newly-eligible families must demonstrate that they otherwise merit FHA financing, and that credit is not available from regular commercial sources.

"The new policy will assist families in which the wife's income is needed to improve the standard of living. Note that if the wife is the principal breadwinner, the rule does not apply. This change will in no way affect our expanding service to low-income families," Mr. Smith said.

Loans may be made to families that will buy or build homes in open country or towns of up to 10,000 population, and who are not able to secure credit from regular commercial sources.
